

Lieux & Enjeux

15
et 16
-
03
-
22

ENSA Paris-Val
de Seine
and VISIO

Seminar and visit

MCMH-EU
COST Action 18137

Dissemination program

Séance en anglais

INSCRIPTIONS :

[https://forms.gle/
oj6EqxAJi3pTBWrd6](https://forms.gle/oj6EqxAJi3pTBWrd6)

Evolution des espaces collectifs dans les ensembles d'habitations

Evolution of collective spaces in Mass Housing

Ahmed Benbernou, Yankel Fijalkow, Hélène Hatzfeld, Bernard Haumont, Manel Khemici, Benjamin Leclercq, Aurélien Ramos, Aurore Reynaud, Clara Sandrini

In the post-war period, modern architects, were called upon to build large housing estates. In the name of hygiene, good orientation and ventilation, they paid almost exclusive attention to built volumes and housing to the detriment of outdoor spaces. From the 1960s, while the access to healthy housing and the social and spatial project satisfied, more or less, the working classes, a widespread discourse denounced the exterior space degradation, segregation, violence and anomie. Today, the revitalization programs of large housing estates, include a reflection on the development of the interface between private, public, collective and outdoor spaces.

Our purpose is to explore the new collective spaces in France and in eastern and western Europe. We will discuss their importance in planning processes and for the inhabitants, and collective spaces as a theatre of conflict and living together.

Day 1: March, 15th Morning, 9:00 (CET)

Introduction by Philippe Bach, Yankel Fijalkow, Sabrina Bresson and Ahmed Benbernou

Bernadette Blanchon, ENSPV (France)
Mass housing landscapes: a little-known heritage, a current potential

Giulio Galasso and Natalia Voroshilova, Politecnico di Milano (Italy)
Fragility and resource: The gardens of post-war Milanese middle-class housing today

Bernard Haumont, CRH-LAVUE (France)
Beautification and liveliness in the public areas

Eveline Althaus, ETH Wohnforum (Switzerland)
Policies, practices, playgrounds – (Trans)formation of collective spaces in postwar high-rise estates in Switzerland

Round table: Transversal reflection, open to the East-West dialectic in Europe

Moderated by Yankel Fijalkow and Clara Sandrini

Ljubo Georgiev, Urban policies association Sofia (Bulgaria)

Hélène Hatzfeld, CRH-LAVUE (France)

Vlatko P. Korobar, University Ss. Cyril and Methodius (N. Macedonia)

Els De Vos, University of Antwerp (Belgium)

Lunch at the CRH-LAVUE

Day 1: March, 15th Afternoon,
2:00 P.M. (CET)

Visit of Vigneux-sur-Seine

By Claire Doussard (AUSser-AHTTEP), Manel Khemici (CRH-LAVUE), Aurélien Ramos (CRH-LAVUE), Aurore Reynaud (CRH-LAVUE) and Vincent Richard (ENSA PVS)

Day 2: March, 16th Morning, 9:00 (C.E.T.)

Eva Storgaard, University of Antwerp (Belgium)
Psychological needs in large-scale dwelling developments

Benjamin Leclercq, CRH-LAVUE / UCLouvain (Belgium)
The reciprocal trial of "living together", or the management of "incivilities" in large social housing estates tested by urban renewal

Claus Bech-Danielsen, Aalborg University (Denmark)
Collective spaces in Danish postwar housing - ideologies in transformation

Ana Rafailovska, Jasmina Siljanoska and Vlatko P. Korobar, University "SS. Cyril and Methodius" (N. Macedonia)
Is the process of deterioration of collective open spaces in mass housing complexes from the second half of the XX reversible? Two narratives from Skopje, N. Macedonia

Lisa Kaufmann, Gießen, Liebig-University (Germany)
Outdoor Spaces and Local Identity in Densified Post-War Settlements

Denis Delbaere, ENSAPL (France)
The Social Housing Districts as laboratory of the Landscape (Meta)project

Audrey Courbebaisse, UCLouvain (Belgium)
Inhabitant Appropriations in Intermediate Spaces within the Large Housing Estates of Toulouse

Closing of the conference with the installation of the postcards resulting from the visits

Centre de recherche sur l'habitat
UMR LAVUE
ENSAPVS

3-15 Quai Panhard et Levasseur 75013 Paris
www.crh.archi.fr/
<https://crhlavue.hypotheses.org/>

European
Middle Class
Mass Housing
□ □ □ □ CA18137

Lieux & Enjeux

15
et 16
-
03
-
22

ENSA Paris-Val
de Seine
and VISIO

Seminar and visit

MCMH-EU
COST Action 18137

Dissemination program

Séance en anglais
INSCRIPTIONS :
[https://forms.gle/
oj6EqxAJi3pTBWrd6](https://forms.gle/oj6EqxAJi3pTBWrd6)

Evolution des espaces collectifs dans les ensembles d'habitations Evolution of collective spaces in Mass Housing

Ahmed Benbernou, Yankel Fijalkow, Hélène Hatzfeld, Bernard Haumont, Manel Khemici, Benjamin Leclercq, Aurélien Ramos, Aurore Reynaud, Clara Sandrini

In the post-war period, modern architects, were called upon to build large housing estates. In the name of hygiene, good orientation and ventilation, they paid almost exclusive attention to built volumes and housing to the detriment of outdoor spaces. From the 1960s, while the access to healthy housing and the social and spatial project satisfied, more or less, the working classes, a widespread discourse denounced the exterior space degradation, segregation, violence and anomie. Today, the revitalization programs of large housing estates, include a reflection on the development of the interface between private, public, collective and outdoor spaces.

Our purpose is to explore the new collective spaces in France and in eastern and western Europe. We will discuss their importance in planning processes and for the inhabitants, and collective spaces as a theatre of conflict and living together.

Day 1: March, 15th Morning, 9:00 (CET)

Introduction by Philippe Bach, Yankel Fijalkow, Sabrina Bresson and Ahmed Benbernou

Bernadette Blanchon, ENSPV (France)
Mass housing landscapes: a little-known heritage, a current potential

Giulio Galasso and Natalia Voroshilova, Politecnico di Milano (Italy)
Fragility and resource: The gardens of post-war Milanese middle-class housing today

Bernard Haumont, CRH-LAVUE (France)
Beautification and liveliness in the public areas

Eveline Althaus, ETH Wohnforum (Switzerland)
Policies, practices, playgrounds – (Trans)formation of collective spaces in postwar high-rise estates in Switzerland

Round table: Transversal reflection, open to the East-West dialectic in Europe

Moderated by Yankel Fijalkow and Clara Sandrini

Ljubo Georgiev, Urban policies association Sofia (Bulgaria)

Hélène Hatzfeld, CRH-LAVUE (France)

Vlatko P. Korobar, University Ss. Cyril and Methodius (N. Macedonia)

Els De Vos, University of Antwerp (Belgium)

Lunch at the CRH-LAVUE

Day 1: March, 15th Afternoon,
2:00 P.M. (CET)

Visit of Vigneux-sur-Seine

By Claire Doussard (AUSser-AHTTEP), Manel Khemici (CRH-LAVUE), Aurélien Ramos (CRH-LAVUE), Aurore Reynaud (CRH-LAVUE) and Vincent Richard (ENSA PVS)

Day 2: March, 16th Morning, 9:00 (C.E.T.)

Eva Storgaard, University of Antwerp (Belgium)
Psychological needs in large-scale dwelling developments

Benjamin Leclercq, CRH-LAVUE / UCLouvain (Belgium)
The reciprocal trial of “living together”, or the management of “incivilities” in large social housing estates tested by urban renewal

Claus Bech-Danielsen, Aalborg University (Denmark)
Collective spaces in Danish postwar housing - ideologies in transformation

Ana Rafailovska, Jasmina Siljanoska and Vlatko P. Korobar, University “SS. Cyril and Methodius” (N. Macedonia)
Is the process of deterioration of collective open spaces in mass housing complexes from the second half of the XX reversible? Two narratives from Skopje, N. Macedonia

Lisa Kaufmann, Gießen, Liebig-University (Germany)
Outdoor Spaces and Local Identity in Densified Post-War Settlements

Claus Bech-Danielsen, Aalborg University (Denmark)
Collective spaces in Danish postwar housing - ideologies in transformation

Denis Delbaere, ENSAPL (France)
The Social Housing Districts as laboratory of the Landscape (Meta)project

Audrey Courbebaisse, UCLouvain (Belgium)
Inhabitant Appropriations in Intermediate Spaces within the Large Housing Estates of

Centre de recherche sur l'habitat
UMR LAVUE
ENSAPVS

3-15 Quai Panhard et Levasor 75013 Paris
www.crh.archi.fr/
<https://crhlavue.hypotheses.org/>

European
Middle Class
Mass Housing
□ □ □ □ CA18137

